Frequently Asked Questions

Q: Is it ok to use multiple Leather Therapy® products on leather at one time?

A: Yes but always start with the Leather Therapy® Wash to clean embedded dirt and grime from the leather. Be sure to let each application absorb and dry before applying the next layer. If you plan to use the Restorer & Conditioner, apply that second. If you plan to use either the Finish or the Water Repellent apply it third – use one or the other depending on your needs.

Q: Are the laundry products ok to use in high efficiency washing machines?

A: Yes, all four laundry products are HE: Leather Laundry Solution, Laundry Rinse and Dressing, Saddle Pad and Blanket Wash, and Saddle Pad and Blanket Rinse.

Q: How should I use the Leather Therapy® products to care for new leather items?

A: Condition the leather well with the Restorer & Conditioner; this may take two applications. Then simply maintain your leather with Leather Therapy® Wash and use Restorer & Conditioner periodically.

Q: How do I clean moldy leather?

A: Start by cleaning the item with Leather Therapy® Wash. Then follow with Leather Therapy® Restorer & Conditioner, which inhibits mold and mildew and also conditions dry leather. Regular maintenance with Leather Therapy® Restorer & Conditioner will inhibit mold and mildew from returning.

Q: How do I clean synthetic leather?

A: Use Leather Therapy® Wash to clean synthetic leathers. Spray the Wash on a clean sponge or soft cloth for normal maintenance. Lightly spray the Wash on dirty leather but do not saturate, wipe away the excess Wash – no need to rinse. Test in a hidden area first.

Q: Will the Wash or Restorer & Conditioner darken light-colored leather?

A: Leather Therapy® Wash, which is non-darkening, should be used as the maintenance cleaner/conditioner to prevent sweat and dirt build-up on leather bridles and saddles. This product will not darken but it should be sprayed on a sponge so only a minimum amount of product is used.

Leather Therapy® Restorer & Conditioner is not petroleum based and therefore will not significantly darken leather. For very pale leathers, you can expect a slight deepening of the natural tones. Always test on a small hidden area first.

Restorer & Conditioner should be applied on the underside of the saddle panels to effectively condition the saddle while retaining the surface 'look'. Apply to tight areas with a clean, soft bristled paintbrush – be sure to clean the paintbrush with soap and water afterwards.
